

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy sets out how Superstars uses and protects any information that you give Superstars when you use this website. Superstars is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected. Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using this website, then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement. Superstars may change this policy from time to time by updating this page. You should check this page from time to time to ensure that you are happy with any changes. This policy is effective from 01/05/2012.

What we collect

We may collect the following information:

- ☆ name and job title
- ☆ contact information including email address
- ☆ demographic information such as postcode, preferences and interests

What we do with the information we gather:

Superstars uses the information we collect about you in the following ways. In particular, we use the information for:

- ☆ internal record keeping
- ☆ to improve our offers and services
- ☆ to send communications about Superstars news and events or other information which we think you may find interesting using the contact details which you have provided

From time to time, we may also use your information to contact you for research purposes. We may contact you by email, phone or mail. We may use the information to improve our offers and services.

Security

Superstars are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.